

Bitter Oil Dispute In Iran Tackled By UN Security Council

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

NEW YORK—(AP)—The United Nations plunges into the bitter British-Iranian oil dispute today, with Britain apparently bowing in advance to Iran's order expelling Britons from the great Abadan refinery area.

A London announcement said Britain plans to evacuate all her oil men from Abadan by Thursday, the deadline set by the National Iranian government.

No Rough Treatment

Iran made it clear she was insisting upon the expulsion in spite of the pending British complaint before the security council.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi said in Tehran that the security council had no power to recommend that Iran lift the expulsion order. Previously, Hussein Makki, of the Iranian National Oil board, said if the Britons insisted on staying at the refinery, they would be "escorted off by police with the greatest respect and kindness."

Iran's aged, frail and emotional Premier, Mohammed Mossadeq, has not yet mentioned flying to New York for the security council meeting. His deputy, Fatemi, said Iran still has received no formal notice from the security council on the British complaint and no decision on whether Mossadeq would go to New York would be made until such official notice was received. The government had announced previously Mossadeq would attend the New York meeting.

Warships Handy

Ten British warships are anchored off Basra, only 40 miles from Abadan on the Shatt-el-Arab Estuary, and there was some talk in London of an "oil blockade" of Iran to insure that the Iranians do not sell stored Abadan oil which Britain considers property of the Anglo-Iranian company.

Makki has said that if such a blockade were imposed, it would be "most dangerous and would be

GOP Has Vote Of Confidence For Gabrielson

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Forty-one of the 104 members of the Republican national committee gave a standing vote of confidence today to chairman Guy George Gabrielson in connection with his RFC loan activities.

The action was taken unanimously by the 41 committee members attending a one-day regional conference on 1952 campaign plans.

Carried Amid Applause

Gabrielson himself raised the RFC question. He has been attacked by several members of his own party for continuing to represent a private corporation before the big government lending agency while serving as party chairman.

At the close of Gabrielson's speech, J. Ross Todd, a Kentucky national committeeman, proposed a vote of confidence.

A dozen other committee members, including both those who voted for and against Gabrielson's election in 1949, seconded Todd's motion. It was carried by a standing vote amid applause.

Fair Deal Big Issue

The general tenor of the second speeches was that Gabrielson had done nothing wrong and that the charges against him were an attempt to "take the heat off" what the speakers called misdeeds of the Truman administration and Democratic National Chairman William M. Boyle Jr.

Senator Mundt (R-SD) hit out at the Democrats in one of the first addresses at the conference. He declared that "the Truman deal is well on the road to

First Hunting Seasons Open; 5,000 Archers

(By The Associated Press)

An estimated 35,000 small game hunters took to the autumn woods and fields in the Upper Peninsula and something over 5,000 archers hunting deer spread over the state today (Monday).

They opened the first hunting seasons of the year in Michigan. Quarry of the Upper Peninsula gunners were ruffed and sharp-tailed grouse, prairie chicken, woodcock, rabbits, grey squirrels in nine counties and pheasants in part of Menominee county.

Plenty of Targets

Conservation department field surveys indicated that ruffed grouse hunters should find plenty of targets. Abundance of the species was comparable with the 1949 peak year, they said, when a record 253,000 birds were harvested in the Upper Peninsula alone.

Sharp-tails and prairie chicken were estimated to be at about the same level as last year when the combined take was 33,500 birds in the Upper Peninsula.

Snow-shoe hare were decidedly increased, according to the surveys. Most hunting for rabbits and squirrels is later in the year when snow is on the ground. The part of Menominee county below US-2 is the only part of the Upper Peninsula open to pheasant hunting. The special season closes Oct. 10.

AN Deer Legal

Archers were expected to have at least as good success as last year when 14 per cent of the 15,000 who bought licenses brought down deer.

The modern robin hoods were expected to total a possible 18,000 before the 36-day season ends Nov. 5.

Archery regulations have been liberalized to permit the taking of deer of either sex in all but nine counties and parts of Bay and Huron counties.

There he is. I killed him."

They said he had been shot three times.

Dr. Wharton's fourth wife, Mrs. Kathryn Zucarelli, 43, was in the house hiding in the bathtub when the shooting occurred. She told the detectives she had been married to Wharton for seven months in 1940-41.

In jail the attractive Mrs. Wharton said she and the doctor were first married in 1935 when he was teaching pathology at Texas A&M college. She told newsmen they were divorced in 1939, then remarried in 1948. She was his second and ninth wife.

Wharton, regarded highly as a meat inspector, was sent to Mexico two years ago to help the Mexican government organize a meat inspection system. He had been serving as San Antonio's chief meat inspector.

The official Peiping radio broadcast a series of tirades aimed abroad and plaudits that showered down on home soil.

It said Red China was goaded into the Korean war by the decision last Oct. 7 of the United Nations general assembly to occupy all of Korea. It pictured Red China now as thirsting for peace but ready for more war.

"Since August, 1950 the American air force, attacking Korea, has been constantly invading the skies of northeast China," the broadcast said.

"Furthermore, through U. S. government manipulation and coercion, the United Nations general assembly on Oct. 7 passed a blood-thirsty proposal to occupy all Korea. This tried the patience of the Chinese people too far. They therefore organized volunteers to resist American aggression, aid Korea, protect their homes and defend their motherland."

Among 10 persons taken to Saginaw General hospital for treatment of burns were Mary Harris, 18, mother of the two dead children; Betty Harris, 4, another child; and Algie Smith, 28, who tried to rescue the Harris children. None was in serious condition.

Wiring Defective

Carl Jordan, 2, was treated for bruises incurred when he fell or jumped from a third floor window; and fireman James Bannon suffered a head cut from a falling board.

Mrs. Queenie Floyd, 35, grandmother of the Harris children and owner of the house, was treated for shock, as was Leona Toney, 28.

The building also had been condemned earlier this year because of defective wiring. But work had been done on the wiring, neighbors said.

The blaze started shortly before 10 p. m., and was brought under control by about 10:30. The house, almost completely destroyed, contained 10 or 11 rooms.

Jensen closed his studio in 1935 and moved to northeastern Wisconsin. He settled on the Door county peninsula, jutting out into Lake Michigan, and opened a school for artists and professional people. It was at the school that he died at 2 a. m. today.

EVERYBODY WAS HAPPY — There were no long faces at Nahma Saturday night when the Nahma Lions club staged a shindig to honor Warren Miller, president of the American Playground Device company, and Charles E. in abundance. Above, Charles E. If Reds Prefer All-Out War They'll Get It

Hedging On Truce Talks Near End

By JOHN RANDOLPH

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP)—The Eighth Army is "prepared to strike, and strike hard" in Korea if the Reds want all-out war instead of truce talks.

That warning was issued tonight in Tokyo by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's public information office.

It came as Gen. Omar N. Bradley, America's top military leader and Ridgway's second in command, toured the Eastern front where the United Nations' autumn offensive got underway last Tuesday.

Enemy Loses Ridges

South Korean troops in their mountainous sector bared their bayonets Monday and drove 500 to 600 Reds off the third crest of a ridgeline west of Heartbreak ridge. They won the other two peaks Sunday night. Other South Koreans captured a hill northwest of the punchbowl, north of Yangju.

On the other side of the war-torn peninsula, sunny skies brought the air war back to Korea. Twenty-seven U. S. F-86 Sabre jets clashed with about 40 red-nosed Communist MIG-15s in a series of dogfights that swirled for 25 minutes north of Sinanju.

The U. S. fifth air force said one of the Russian-made MIGs was destroyed and three were damaged. No allied losses were reported.

Not Sitting Back

Of truce negotiations, the Ridgway headquarters statement said "the whole issue of the resumption of talks is one that cannot be hedged much longer."

"Meanwhile, indications are that the Eighth Army is not planning to sit idly by while the Communists string out negotiations for another long period. A few days ago an autumn offensive was started. The Eighth

Argentina Returns To Normalcy After Brief Revolt Scare

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—(AP)

—Argentina returned to work-a-day routine today following the excitement of last Friday's short-lived revolt. A decree proclaiming a state of internal war was still in effect, however. It proclaimed death for the military men who participated in the uprising.

Newspapers supporting President Juan D. Peron carried almost identical stories charging the opposition radical, conservative and socialist parties with being mixed up in the affair.

The pro-Peron newspaper Democracia said a group of nationalists "irritated at Peron's refusal to declare war on the United States" plotted to kill him and establish a dictatorship "without realizing that the whole maneuver was planned and financed by Wall Street."

Washington Maps List Of Bases To Be Kept In Japan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP)—State and defense department officials shortly—perhaps this week—will begin working out the list of land, sea and air bases which the United States will want to retain in Japan.

Officials said the job is complicated by the fact that so long as the Korean war continues the United States will require more facilities than it will need if and when peace is restored to that area of the Far East.

In Key Position

The Japanese islands constitute a key position in this country's Western Pacific Island defense system against Asian Communist forces.

Immediately after the Japanese peace treaty was signed at San Francisco Sept. 8, the U. S. signed with Japan a treaty authorizing American forces to remain in the Japanese islands following the occupation period. The occupation ends when the treaty takes effect, probably early next year.

Before that time, however, state department officials feel that an agreement spelling out in detail base arrangements and the whole relationship between the American military and the Japanese government must be completed and agreed to by both sides.

Need May Change

At least two strong reasons are advanced for this timing. One is that this country is now in a better bargaining position with Japan than it will be after the peace treaty becomes effective; the other is that when the peace and security treaties go to the Senate for approval next January senators will want assurance that adequate base provisions have been made.

While the United States is under no compulsion to cut down its forces in Japan and does not intend to do so while the Korean war continues, the expectation of officials is that without the Korean war the facilities now required there could be somewhat reduced.

No Red Reply On Truce Talks

By DON NUTH

TOKYO—(AP)—Red leaders persisted today in their long silence on an allied proposal to change the Korean truce meeting place from Kaesong to no-man's land.

Gen. Omar Bradley said Sunday the future of the armistice negotiations "will depend on the nature" of the Communist reply.

The chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff flew to Korea Monday with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, allied supreme commander, and Charles (Chip) Bohlen, state department expert on Russia.

Bradley, wearing battle dress, went to Korea to visit frontline divisions.

He had told a news conference in Tokyo Sunday "no one can foresee if they (the truce talks) will be successful or unsuccessful. I don't think anyone expected quick results."

He expressed hope that an armistice can be reached, but made it clear that was to the Reds.

The talks were broken off abruptly by the Communists Aug. 23 with a charge that an allied plane violated the Kaesong neutral zone. The United Nations command denied this.

Saginaw Mansions Burns; Two Dead, Seven Injured

SAGINAW — (AP)—A searing fire ripped through a tander-dry old mansion-turned-rooming house here last night, killing two children and injuring seven other persons.

The building, erected before the turn of the century, had been condemned only a month.

The dead in the blaze, which left an estimated 30 persons homeless, were Mary Ann Harris, 2, and Henry Harris, Jr., 16 months children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Harris.

No Fire Escape

They were trapped by the blaze that apparently started at the rear of the first floor. It then swept up a back stairway to an attic that had been divided into sleeping rooms by cardboard partitions.

City building inspector Alfred R. Borm condemned the structure about 30 days ago as unsafe because it lacked a fire escape. He had asked a court order to have one constructed.

A ladder which had been placed against the building temporarily was knocked down by some of the 5,000 spectators that watched the blaze in Saginaw's heavily-Negro first ward.

Police said that some of the House Conferees Hold Out For Tax Increase Of About 7 Billions

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today that if the new tax bill goes to President Truman's desk carrying only the $5,450,000,000 voted by the Senate, the president should veto it.

But, said Humphrey, House conferees can be expected to put up a stiff fight for their bill to boost taxes about $7,000,000,000, the tax hike the House voted a week ago.

The Senate-House conference committee will start tomorrow or Wednesday to hammer out a compromise version of the conflicting tax measures passed by each branch.

Meanwhile, the Senate investigation of alleged political tie-ups between William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic National chairman, and big government loans was recessed until Wednesday.

But Senator Mundt (R-SD), a member of investigations subcommittee, told a reporter that "vital evidence exists" to settle the question whether Boyle got an $8,000 fee for helping a St. Louis printing firm get a $565,000 loan. Boyle has testified he had nothing whatever to do with the loan.

"Whether we can get it is another question," Mundt said, without elaborating on his reference to "vital evidence."

Later this week the subcommittee plans a public hearing into the relationship between Guy G. Gabrielson and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC). Gabrielson, the Republican National chairman and head of a company which got an RFC loan, has denied any improper activity. But some Republican members of Congress have called on him to resign because of his acknowledged loan dealing with the RFC since taking his job with the GOP committee.

The Senate Foreign Relations committee scheduled a closed, meeting today to take up Chester Bowles' appointment as ambassador to India.

The Labor party made the threat of a third World War its prime issue today in Britain's general election campaign.

It claimed that only a Labor government could work effectively for world peace.

By implication it branded Winston Churchill's Conservatives a potential war party.

Some 1,500 delegates and party leaders opened a two and a half day annual conference at this seaside resort in preparation for the Oct. 25 election. The four-point manifesto places its prime emphasis on peace.

The other three points are full employment and increased production, a cut in the cost of living, and a continued policy of soak-the-rich and reward the worker.

Nahma Folks Honor Miller And Good

Saturday was Charlie Good and Warren Miller day at Nahma. Happily, Nahma townspeople gathered at the community center to pay tribute to the president of the Bay de Noquet company and to welcome the president of the American Playground Device company of Anderson, Ind., who bought the picturesque sawmill town and saved it from becoming a ghost town.

President Miller and his wife, Virginia, who is treasurer of the company, enjoyed the log sawing and wood chopping contests held on the tennis court in the afternoon and the dance sponsored by the Lions club in the evening. Over the weekend, they visited the golf course, beach, sawmill and took a ride on the Nahma and Northern railway's steam locomotive No. 5.

Testifying to the significance of this particular event in the life of a small town was the presence of Tom McAvoy, who came from Detroit to take pictures for Life magazine, and Rus Arnold, free lance photographer of Chicago, who covered the affair for Sporting Goods Dealer, Business Week and other publications.

Get "Keys To City"

At the speaking program on the auditorium stage prior to the dance Saturday night, Good presented Mr. and Mrs. Miller with "two keys to the city"—one of wood and the other of metal to represent the two basic materials used in the manufacture of American's playground, park, beach and pool equipment.

In a brief talk, Good reviewed the sales promotion campaign which was launched last spring and brought more than three hundred inquiries concerning the offer to sell Nahma "lock, stock and barrel" for $250,000, one-tenth of its real value.

"I decided to sell to Warren Miller because he had the same dreams and ambition for the future development of Nahma that I have had for years," Good told the crowd of Nahma townspeople. "I have visited his plant in Anderson, met his force of workers and know you will find him to be a fine employer."

Other Awards

In response, Miller reviewed briefly some of his plans for the industrial and recreational development of Nahma. He then presented Good with a share of stock in the American Playground Device company as a token of his esteem for the 64-year-old lumberman, who didn't let his home town down after the timber supply ran out.

"I welcome you as a stockholder in American, Charlie," said Miller. "This share of stock makes you a partner in our business and gives you the right to look over our books at any time."

There were tributes and awards aplenty during the evening's program.

Henry Giroux, president of the Nahma Lions club, presented Good and Miller with the Lions International's medals for distinguished community service. He also read a telegram from the Munising Lions club, which ordered $500 worth of American playground equipment for May delivery.

But Charlie Good's biggest surprise came when, tears in his eyes, he received an attractive gold watch and trophy presented by William Acker, Bay de Noquet company superintendent, on behalf of the people of Nahma, who raised the money by passing the hat around.

There were two other speakers on the program. Jack Harding, advertising manager of American Playground Device; and Atty. Conrad Amkens, Anderson, Ind. Guests introduced at the meeting included: Prof. Robert Craig, forestry school, University of Michigan; Prof. Paul Herbert, dean of conservation institute, Michigan State College; Arthur Hagman, Detroit, publisher of Inside Michigan; and Mrs. Virginia Miller, Anderson, Ind., wife of President Miller.

War Veterans' Plaque

Sunday noon, a brief ceremony was held at the 700-year-old white pine stump in front of the Nahma hotel to dedicate a plaque honoring the departed war veterans of Nahma. Rev. Fr. Thomas Andary, Catholic priest, gave a brief talk and presented Allen Mercier, Bay de Noquet woods superintendent

Escanaba Awarded Logging Congress

The Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Timber Producers association has accepted the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce invitation to hold the 1952 Lake State Loggers Congress in Escanaba.

Houghton and Rhinelander, Wis., were competing with Escanaba at this year's convention in Marquette, which attracted more than seven hundred men and women.

Escanaba's bid was presented last weekend by a C. of C. committee composed of Secretary Hugh Grow, Wilmore K. Berglund, Elmer Klassel, Wm. J. Duchaine, Carlton Gunderson, Ray Eberli, James Kennedy, Robert Schmit. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce sent a lumberjack band to march in the four-mile long parade at Marquette Saturday.

Upper Michigan still has enough timber to double present production, the sixth annual logging congress was told Saturday. Harold E. Holman, Washington, D. C., forest products division official for the national production authority, said that the present output of 465 million board feet annually could be increased by proper management and selective cutting.

Holman said Michigan's conservation and reforestation program should be an example for other states. He said the logging congress symbolized an energetic approach to the industry's problems.

Safety awards were given to the Freeman Raish Co., Marquette, in the logging and sawmill division, and to the Algoma (Wis.) Plywood & Veneer Co., in the veneer division.

Partridge Crashes School Window At Opening Of Season

Today marked the opening of the partridge (ruffed grouse) season—with one partridge dropping in at the Rock school to enroll for a short course in the three R's—Rapidity, Rocketing, and Retiring.

The grouse at 7 a. m. (before school opened) crashed through a pane of window glass 44 inches square and was found inside the school.

Still living, the partridge has been adopted by the children as a pet. If it will settle down and maintain a fair scholastic record the bird may remain in school until the hunting season is past.

More Church Workers Needed - LeTourneau

Faith in God as a factor in successful living was the theme of a series of addresses by R. G. LeTourneau, noted businessman and lay preacher, in Escanaba on Saturday and Sunday.

Speaking at the First Presbyterian church and a rally at the W. W. Oliver auditorium, he earnestly recommended to those present their unqualified acceptance of the Biblical injunction: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added to you." He ascribed his own success in business to adoption of this policy in his daily living.

Had Failed in Business
Recounting his early life, the speaker said that he had quit school when he was fourteen years old and for many years after that had lived in very modest circumstances—finding it hard to make a living. Things went from bad to worse and eventually he was in deep financial distress.

In the darkest hour, he said, "I turned to God, and I promised Him that I would do what He wanted me to do." The tide from then on turned for the better and a short time afterward he engaged in business which eventually became the big concern it is today—one of the largest earth moving equipment manufacturers in the country. He loves machinery and takes delight in making the things he manufactures more efficient, but he ascribes his success to the inspiration and power that has come to him through prayer and earnest Christian living.

His start as a lay preacher, he explained, came as the result of an address he delivered before a civic and commerce association meeting in a large mid-western city several years ago. In this address he had dealt primarily with current business problems; when at the close of his talk, he said he acted on a sudden inspiration and recommended prayer and the employment of Christ's teachings in business relations. The response to this phase of his talk, he said, was so great and so encouraging that he determined to devote much of his spare time to delivering a businessman's gospel message. His appearance in Escanaba is one of hundreds he has made throughout the country.

Urges Membership Activity
The burden of Mr. LeTourneau's message was an exhortation to his listeners to take a more active part in the promotion of the work of their churches.

"Pass the word around that you've got a good preacher. . . . Get folks to come to church—people who don't ordinarily attend. Your pastor gets tired of preaching to the same old crowd," he said. The minister of the church should be its business manager and its laymen should be its salesmen, he added.

Discusses World Problems
Touching on current world problems, he termed the situation a "mess." He said we find ourselves depending entirely on ways and means of slaughtering our fellowmen as the only solution to our misunderstandings. Each day the death dealing weapons become more diabolical, "but we are no nearer peace," he added. "There can be no peace until we accept the teachings of the Prince of Peace."

"Ask yourselves," he told his listeners, "Am I doing my part to bring about peace?"

By way of illustration of what must be done, he said that in his business it is of utmost importance that his machines be properly aligned.

"If they are out of alignment, friction develops and something is sure to break down in the end," he said. So it is with the world. We are out of alignment."

"We must get our lives in tune—in harmony with God's plan. God, the Master Mechanic, will fix it," was his concluding remark.

Saturday night's meeting was preceded by a six o'clock dinner in the church hall. The lecture was delivered in the church auditorium. Leonard Olson, president of the men's club presided at the meeting. Invocation was made by Rev. James Bell. Mrs. Dorothy Strathern, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who accompanied Mr. LeTourneau on the speaking tour, sang two selections.

German Woman Views Michigan

Study In Rural Living Brings Her To Delta

An experiment in international understanding—financed by Michigan home economics extension groups—will bring a young German woman to Delta county this week in a study of rural living in Michigan.

Miss Inga Timmler, 27, will arrive in Delta county Wednesday noon and will spend Thursday as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McFadden, Cornell.

Thursday evening Miss Timmler will join with home economics groups of Cornell and Hendricks in a meeting at the McFadden home, where she may meet the homemakers and observe their program and discussions.

During her stay she will be assisted by Miss Ingrid Tervonen, Delta county home demonstration agent, and Fred Bernhardt, Delta 4-H agent, in better acquainting herself with home economics and 4-H club programs and projects in the county.

Miss Timmler following her six month stay in Michigan will return to Germany to help train German country youth and women in programs for better rural living.

She arrived in Michigan in early July and in cooperation with Michigan State College extension staff members is learning how American women and youth are

Population Center Of U. S. Moves To Illinois Cornfield

By TOM MADDOX

DUNDAS, Ill., Crossroads, U. S. A. — (AP)—Census experts have pinpointed a new U. S. population center in Carl Snider's cornfield.

Farm folks in the southern Illinois area are pleased, although amused at the fuss over it.

The young Mr. and Mrs. Carl Snider and their boys, Don, five, and John, two, live in Denver township, Richland county, Ill.

Crossroads nearest the new center are gravelled—leading to the nearest village, Dundas (pop. 200), and the nearest church, Mt. Gil-lead. It's off the beaten track. U. S. highway 50 is a seven mile drive south.

Snider's neighbors are typical general farmers. Most cash in on corn and soybeans. A few luckier ones get oil royalties.

Most took the first news that the nation's center had moved into their midst with less enthusiasm than they would have for a new family moving onto the next farm.

They point out that it's only a mathematical balance of population. However, the census bureau formally fixes the center once every decade. The center now has crossed a state line for the first time since 1890 and gone farther south than ever on its western course.

Reacting to the news that the center now is in her community, Mrs. Gene Kermicle said, "early in the surveying we were told it might be on our own place. I kidded the man by saying wouldn't it be funny if it was in our hog pen. I knew it would be around here but I didn't think it would be such a glamorous thing."

She referred to talk of a "big celebration" Oct. 18 with state and government officials taking part.

List One Jury Case For Trial

Judge Jackson Opens Court Term Here

Review of the Delta county circuit court calendar by Judge Glenn W. Jackson today indicated that one civil case will be tried by jury at the October term, and there is the possibility the jury will not report for duty until later in the term rather than on Wednesday, as previously scheduled.

One plea of guilty was entered in arraignment of criminal cases on the calendar.

Douglas W. Schafer, 17, of North 15th street, Gladstone, pleaded guilty to a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile without intent to steal and will be sentenced later. He is at liberty on bond.

Two Disposed Of
Leonard Couillard, 26, of Cornell Rt. 1, asked time to consult a lawyer before entering a plea to a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile. He is held in jail in default of bond.

The case of Fred Homer, disorderly conduct, third offense, was passed. A no prosecution was entered in the case of Bethel Thorvald Hansen on motion of Prosecutor J. Clyde McGonagle; and the prosecutor informed the court that in the case of Raymond Oliver Wittkoff the respondent has been committed to the state hospital at Newberry on order from probate court.

Civil cases for jury trial were either passed or continued with exception of one, John O. Erickson vs. Narcis and Willard Thibault. It is this case which may be heard by a jury either this week or next.

Non-Jury Cases
Non-jury civil cases listed for trial include the following: National Surety company vs. Escanaba Motor company; August Schramm vs. Leonard Mackie; Peter Silbernagel vs. Joseph Lar-may.

Chancery cases listed for hearing by the court include the following: Ella Houghton, Erston L. Marshall, Ernest E. Knight, Lulu I. Knight, Roy W. Johnson and Clyde B. Johnson vs. Ina Stout and Minnie Marshall; and a number of divorce actions.

Chancery cases continued include that of James E. Frost and Juel Lee, special administrators of the estate of John P. Norton vs. Frank J. and George Lindenthal and Delta Broadcasting company.

Counsel for special administrators of the Norton estate said an audit report is awaited by the plaintiff in its suit for an accounting. The continuance was agreed to by counsel for the defendants.

Enrollment Drops At Northern State

MARQUETTE — Enrollment at Northern Michigan College of Education has reached 608 for the fall term, a drop of approximately 27 per cent.

It was the second successive decrease from the all-time high of 1,022 reached in 1949. Registration last year was 830.

L. O. Gant, registrar, attributed the decline chiefly to the completion of four-year courses by GI students. The number of war veterans still in school was set at 128, compared to 260 a year ago.

Youth Club 314 Offers Broad Program For Local Teen Aged

ESCANABA'S youth center, Club 314, established and directed by the Escanaba recreation department, has its formal opening for the fall and winter season this evening from seven to ten o'clock.

The public, of course, is invited to visit the youth center at any time to see how the program is operated there for the benefit of Escanaba youth. A special invitation has been extended for Monday night.

The operation of Club 314 is not a complete solution to the juvenile delinquency problem. Unfortunately most of the youngsters who usually are involved in juvenile crime are not attracted to Club 314. Nevertheless, the club does provide

Wrong Yardstick To Measure Senators

AT San Francisco the American Federation of Labor marked 19 U. S. senators as targets for defeat in 1952. Fourteen are Republicans.

It's a free country. Anybody has a perfect right to oppose any candidate for office. Yet it is possible to question the wisdom of the A. F. of L. action on other grounds.

All 19 on the federation's list are there because they voted for the Taft-Hartley labor law and are thus deemed "short-sighted and anti-labor." Taft-Hartley, of course, has been a red flag to top labor leaders ever since its passage in 1947.

At first blush the newest blacklist might seem wholly logical, since the A. F. of L.'s traditional policy has been one of rewarding its friends and penalizing its enemies. But the federation's definition of friend and foe is so narrowly conceived that one may reasonably ask whether organized labor really understands where its interests lie.

To begin with, the case against the Taft-Hartley act is unproved. There is no substantial evidence that it has damaged labor's cause, or ever will. Hence the use of that law as a yardstick of friendship is largely artificial.

But beyond that, does the A. F. of L. really wish to judge the usefulness of a senator by so limited a gauge in this critical time?

The next five or ten years may determine whether we are to have peace or the most destructive war in all history. Decisions made in Congress will play a big part in setting that great issue.

Consequently, we need on Capitol Hill men whose judgments are informed, imaginative and independent. They have the problem of deciding not only how to meet the Communist threat to freedom, but how to foster at the same time an orderly, continuing growth of American life in all its richly varied facets.

Is it fair to assume that a Congress whose prime qualification was friendship for labor's specific wants would be the best Congress to face the crisis ahead?

The answer is clearly no. Lawmakers must be chosen by broader gauge. Breadth of vision, devotion to national as against regional or other special interests, respect for the facts, these are some of the qualities by which we must measure candidates for Congress.

In these times of stress, men thus equipped to shape national destinies are the friends of every American—including the leaders and the rank and file of labor. Any narrower definition of friendship can only heighten the nation's peril. Labor's antiquated yardstick ought to be discarded forthwith.

A Good Start—Let's Follow Through

CANADA'S agreement to accept the 32 Czechs who dashed for freedom aboard an express train a few weeks ago is a happy sequel to what threatened to become a dismal story.

Under procedures all too common in a Western Europe besieged by a steady stream of Iron Curtain refugees, many of the Czechs had a problem that deserves major attention from high Allied authorities.

Resettlement of the 32 Czechs, arranged by the Iron Curtain Refugee Campaign under leadership of Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, retired Air Force commander, is a token of the kind of solution called for on a much larger scale. Let's hope it inspires action.

The Communists, incidentally, have attempted to explain away the embarrassing express train escape by dubbing it a "terroristic plot" of American secret agents.

The only terror involved is the Reds' terror that their own people will know the facts of the case.

Autumn Sadness

By Gordon Martin

There's a sadness in the autumn that you notice every year, when the leaves come floating down and birds begin to disappear. And you're thinking, as you rake the yard, you're losing lots of friends, as Jack Frost arrives to steal the scene and summer glory ends. Though you know the brilliant autumn has a beauty all its own, still you just can't help regretting that the leaves and birds have flown.

When beneath the giant locust tree you pile the browning leaves, you remember that it sheltered you far more than man-made eaves, from the heat of summer sunlight that was burning in the sky, and it shaded, too, your lawn and made it pleasing to the eye. Now its most barren branches show abandoned little nests, where your feathered tenants bore their young and stayed as welcome guests.

And the maple with its silver leaves now fallen at your feet, and the climbing rose so thin and spare where robins use to meet—well, it sort of has you wishing that the summer hadn't gone, and that fall and then the winter days would not be coming on. For there's sadness in the autumn that you notice every year, when the leaves come floating down and birds begin to disappear.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Diplomats returned from the Ottawa conference report privately that it wasn't anywhere near as successful as the headlines and the official press communiques indicated.

In fact, it ducked the most important problem for which it was called—the question of deciding how much money is to be spent on European rearmament and how much for civilian uses.

Furthermore, the Ottawa diplomats did not even bother to read General Eisenhower's report on Europe's military defense. Ike had prepared a report on the present strength of Europe, and on how much more armament would be necessary. But his analysis was not even read.

Instead it was referred to the next meeting in Rome, which will not be held until November—after Great Britain gets a new government.

Most of this took place at closed-door sessions and was not known to the public. Keynote of the general attitude at the Ottawa conference was a speech given by Bjarni Benediktsson, foreign minister of Iceland, a handsome viking-type gentleman with long, drooping mustaches very much like a walrus.

"Iceland," said Foreign Minister Benediktsson at the first closed session, "has already done her share. We can do no more. We have American troops on our soil. And we have a new air base at Reykjavik which is keeping all the people awake."

ONE-SIDED GAME

Other foreign ministers took a similar position. They weren't quite so blunt, but their general feeling was that further efforts should come from the United States. As one delegate put it afterward: "It was like a tennis game played against a wall, with the United States the lone tennis player and Europe the wall."

Secretary of State Acheson led off the first closed-door session with a none too inspiring speech. Whereas he was very much on the ball at San Francisco, Dean seemed tired at Ottawa. He addressed the foreign and finance ministers on the obvious fact that Russian foreign policy has not changed in several hundred years, that it continues one of aggression, and that Russia under the Kremlin, as under the Czar, is still struggling for warm-water ports.

Acheson also dwelt on the equally obvious fact that trouble in the near and Middle East—as Iran—could vitally affect Europe.

Another delegate read lugubrious quotations from Lenin showing Russia's passion for conquest—quotations which were well known and presumably of no great import to a group of world leaders gathered because they were already aware of threatened Soviet aggression.

The Portuguese delegate also complained: "The one country which has stanchly and consistently fought communism is not here. It should be seated beside us, carrying on this battle shoulder to shoulder. I refer of course to Spain."

BEVAN'S GHOST

Though he wasn't present, the chief shadow which hung over the conference was that of Aneurin Bevan, resigned British Minister of Health, who left the labor government because he claimed it was spending too much on armament and not enough on health benefits. The standard of living of the British people, he argued, must not come down.

Unquestionably a majority of the foreign ministers at Ottawa agreed privately with Ex-Minister Bevan. They didn't put it in exactly the same words, but they knew that their governments would fall if workers' wages were further reduced by inflation—and inflation is increasing because of rearmament. They also knew that communism inside their countries would increase if they spent too much money on armies to resist communism from the outside.

This was the real problem at Ottawa—and it was ducked. It was ducked by appointing a committee of twelve—"The twelve wise men" they were called—to study the matter and report later.

Meanwhile, most of Europe also ducks the problem of heavier taxation in the upper brackets and revamping of its system of putting the chief tax burden on the masses. This remains one of the greatest breeders of communism inside Europe, but it was not discussed, even informally, at Ottawa.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—The sophomore class of the Escanaba high school elected the following officers: Bob Ranguette, secretary; Nellie Hendricks, treasurer; John Groos, president; and Warren Nilsen, vice president.

Escanaba—Mrs. Bevier Butts was elected president of the citizens' public health committee. Mrs. Orin King of Wells was named secretary, and Mrs. Emerson Harvey treasurer.

Escanaba—Work on the extension of the city's steam mains to Twelfth street south is progressing rapidly since an additional crew of 50 WPA men were transferred from Gladstone to the job.

Manistique—A story appearing in the current issue of Startling Detective magazine describes the murder of Botolf Norberg in a cottage on M-94 several years ago.

20 YEARS AGO

Washington—Calvin Coolidge does not intend to run for president in 1932, but proposes to support Herbert Hoover for a second nomination. "When we need more harmony, more cooperation and more confidence," said Mr. Coolidge in a copyrighted article published by the Saturday Evening Post, "it would be a distinct disservice to promote a factional conflict against a president in office."

Manistique—School Commissioner and Mrs. W. T. Cornell will attend the Michigan Education association convention in Sault Ste. Marie this weekend.

Gladstone—The City of Gladstone reduced the pay of its salaried employees and day laborers from two to 10 per cent. The resolution providing the wage reduction was adopted at the council meeting.

'Your Newspaper Lights The Way To Freedom' Is Week's Slogan

HEART of a press association—the central wire room.

AP Newsfeatures
"Your Newspaper Lights The Way To Freedom."

That is this year's slogan for National Newspaper Week.

The point was vigorously stressed recently by Kent Cooper, Executive Director of The Associated Press, at the 100th Anniversary banquet of Reuters, British News Agency, in London.

Reuters now is owned by English newspapers, just as the Associated Press is composed of The Escanaba Daily Press and hundreds of other American newspapers working in cooperation.

Control of the collection and dissemination of news by newspapers "rather than by opportunists or by governments," assures that the public will receive truthful news, Mr. Cooper said.

"The Associated Press of America has endured," he declared.

"As the first of the world's news cooperatives, I say for it with humility that if the world ever has gotten from my country any practical, ethical standard to embrace, it consists of a method by which the people assuredly can get the truth while freedom lasts. This method is the control of the collection and dissemination of the news by the newspapers themselves rather than by opportunists or by governments."

"The principle is a sound one. Such widely distributed sponsorship of a news agency by newspapers means it is supported by a large group of individuals who hold diversified views and suspicions on every proposal under the sun. Yet they unanimously agree that their own news agency shall truthfully report all sides of every question. Obviously no other procedure could possibly be acceptable to all of them."

"The beneficiary of this diversified ownership, however, is the public which thus is assured truthful news."

"The development is of profound importance since all peoples can best advance the welfare of their home lands with vigorous loyalty if through the safeguard of this method they get the truth in its fullest illumination. By the same token they naturally will better understand the problems of the people of other nations if they are not blinded by half truth which breeds prejudice and hatred, where the whole truth develops tolerance and fraternity."

"Antagonism toward this practical idealism exists only where the power to suppress the truth refuses to accept these statements as facts. And a barrier to such acceptance is that power which suppresses truthful news is power in fear. In its fright it cannot even comprehend what is best for its own interests. So it fails to realize these three things which, with all my heart, I wish were better understood:

"First, confidence and loyalty thrive where the people have the right to know;

"Second, there is no greater urge for patriotic achievement by any people than that which springs from their own convictions based not upon a vulnerable, unilateral propaganda line but on full information on all sides of every question;

"Third, power backed by a force thus intelligently engendered is unassailable because it is based upon a respect for the individual, a policy which stands for human justice in its finest flower."

"On the other hand, rejection of these axioms has invariably led great masses of people and their leaders to disaster—unnecessary and agonizing disaster. We do not have to go farther back than the last war to recall that fully and honestly informed peoples prevailed over those constrained to live in countries not so favored. And not one of the latter countries then nor ever in its history had been served by a national news agency owned by the newspapers."

"When the Nazis decided to regiment German minds through party propaganda in the news, they did not purchase all the German newspapers to effect their purpose, instead they quietly bought that country's great, privately owned news agency which was the main source of information upon which those newspapers relied, and promptly perverted its news. It might have been different if that agency had been owned by the newspapers. At least it could not have been done secretly. For the mere proposal would have developed some newspaper opposition which would have bared the iniquitous step and delayed, if it did not frustrate it."

"As it was, no other factor than that secret purchase so suddenly, and so viciously developed the Nazi spirit of aggression. Exactly the same thing occurred in Italy. The people of both countries found the truth was not to be had! Without the truth they could not think straight. And when they could not think straight they faced their fate in darkness, freedom's light being gone!"

"I emphasize what happened in Germany and Italy to prove there is less likelihood of encroachment upon the right of the people to be served honestly by the press if newspaper owned agencies constitute the method by which the truth is obtained."

"It is a rewarding method. Instead of being harmful to those in power, it is helpful. Public knowledge of the truth never yet has hurt a just cause or a just power. On the other hand, it has contributed to national unity and the reduction of government error."

"These are no small accomplishments to which newspaper owned agencies have contributed. They justify every nation having its own newspaper controlled agency, with all of them linked in mutual association, each sacredly adhering to the code of truth. I can think of no stronger force that would so certainly develop a world wide spirit of fraternity which alone can create the kind of international understanding by which peace may endure."

"I have never regretted running for Congress in 1940. The people of the Eleventh District were very good to me, even in defeat. While I have no plan to try it again, we hope to maintain our many fine friendships there at the same time as we enjoy the glorious climate and scenery in that area."

Good Evening...

NOT A CANDIDATE—Wendell Lund of Escanaba, Mackinac Island and Washington, D. C., is not thinking of being a candidate for congress from the 11th Michigan district in 1952.

So he informs me in reply to a recent column item, written following a Labor Day weekend visit to the Straits of Mackinac.

Folks there speculated that Atty. Lund, Democrat, had purchased a home at Mackinac Island so he would be nearer the center of the congressional district.

Lending credence to the report was the listing of Atty. Lund's name as a possible candidate in a Detroit newspaper story.

"I HAVE NO PLAN"—Atty. Lund, son of Dr. C. Albert Lund, former Escanaban, writes:

"I'm sure there is no harm in your speculating that I may be planning to run for Congress next year, even though there appears to be no basis for it. Certainly I had no such thought in mind in buying a home on the island and spending our summers there."

"The simple fact is that, as a native son, I love Northern Michigan and am fortunate enough to have a wife and three daughters who share my deep affection for it. The five of us agree that there is no other place in the world like Northern Michigan, and we hope, God willing, to spend a lot of time there in the years ahead."

Watching Haircuts No Longer Great American Sport

By HAL BOYLE

One of the dying American spectator sports is watching haircuts. How long has it been since you watched a good clean haircut? Probably Years.

Except in rural utopias the barbershop has ceased to be a public forum and a haunt of philosophers. It is no longer the shabby but warm refuge where men came to be shorn and knit together by Saturday night laughter and gossip.

Yes, it is going the way of the old-fashioned grocery store. It has become a glittering supermarket of steam and bright metal and buzzing gadgets, a cathedral of the tonsorial arts.

It is big business. The motto in most of these glossy temples is: "The customer is always welcome—but get it, and get it." Spectators are discouraged, and the barber wants a quick turnover—not an admiring audience. Why, I haven't seen a cuspidor in a barbershop since Franklin D. Roosevelt's first term.

Barber Watches Clock
There is nothing to make a client yearn to linger or watch the next man get a haircut. The barber works in silence, except maybe for a desultory remark or two on the baseball situation. But he no longer launches into a learned and informative discussion on the political situation. That takes time.

The service is all impersonal. The barber is fighting that clock. He wants to clip you, massage you, anoint you, or shave you—anything you want—but he wants to get you out of that chair as fast as possible, and get another man in.

Leisure? I know people now who make appointments with a barber. Shades of the great American past! Imagine a life so crowded a man has to make an appointment with a barber, just as if he were going to the dentist. A fellow used to pick offhand the week or month he was going to get a haircut. Now he has to name the minute and hour, if he wants to be sure to find a chair.

The decline of the traditional barbershop began with the vanishing of the two-bit haircut, now as rare as a five-cent beer. The barber in the old days knew there was no use to hurry, because how could a man ever get rich at that price?

Snips Come High
But today the barber gets $1 to $1.50 a head. With every snip of his scissors he can buy a brick for his new country home. Naturally he doesn't want to pause and parley politics.

Nor does he want to give an ailing customer his own homemade recipe for curing ulcers. He's too busy earning his own ulcer.

And no longer does he wind up the job with the time-honored question of his profession: "Comb it wet or dry?" He demands to know what tonic you prefer, and if you say you don't want any, he accepts your two-bit tip with a look of scorn. And you slink out feeling cheap and guilty.

There is no doubt the barber is better off today, and the haircuts are better. But much of the old fun of going to him is gone. The sense of sharing a haircut is lost. It is a chore for both him and you, and too often you leave him with the air of having committed a public misdemeanor, because you didn't buy a massage and a few drops of smell-nice.

But at today's prices a man has to choose whether he wants to make his barber or his own family happy with his paycheck. There just isn't enough for both.

How To Pet Porcupine Without Quill Trouble

LOA, Utah—(AP)—Even porcupines can be friendly, but you must know which way to rub 'em.

Perry L. Jackson, tourists' guide, found a porcupine asleep. He didn't know how to handle the little animal with the sharp quills. He tried to rout it with his hunting cap. He got a capful of quills.

His brother, J. Worthen Jackson, soothed the homely bark eater, stroked him and even picked him up.

Army Speeds Up GI Orientation Course

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—

American soldiers bound for duty in Europe are going to get shipboard training on how to act in their new assignments.

Previously the business of orienting new troops was largely done after they landed. Now, the Army says, special orientation teams are going to explain to young GIs going abroad for the first time just what their job will be.

Army officials say classes will be held on the relationship of the new men to European people, and the organization of the European command. In addition, they will be given historical background and the geography and economic conditions of countries where they will be stationed.

Korea's Winter Now Brewing In Siberia

Down the windy steppes of Siberia, winter is moving south toward Korea again.

Korea's rainy season is nearly over, the National Geographic Society says. In September, pressure patterns that control the monsoon winds begin swinging like a giant weather-wheel. Dry, cold air from the Asiatic heartland begins moving southeast over the Gobi Desert and Manchurian plains.

Cloud-covered skies will clear in the weeks ahead. Battlegrounds which have been muddy quagmires will dry. The best weather of the Korean year comes in the fall. But close behind looms the bitter cold of December, January and February.

Dry, Cold and Clear

Only the shallow Yellow Sea tempers winter's touch along Korea's western shores. A mountainous interior brings Alpine weather down across the central belt where the fighting front now rests. In this region January's mean temperature is about 20 degrees above zero. Farther north, toward the Yalu River, it sinks well below zero as a daily average.

Winter is the dry season. Over most of Korea only one-tenth as much moisture falls in January, driest month of the year, as in July, the wettest. In the transitional months of October and November, however, rain one day may be followed by snow the next. By Christmas, passing cold fronts can bring severe blizzards with Arctic gales of 40 miles per hour.

Despite the cold, United Nations airmen welcome the end of summer monsoons. Winter skies are clear 10 to 15 days a month, whereas in summer only one to three days are completely clear. Winter air is usually calm and too dry to offer serious icing hazard; there is fog less than one day a month. Although Korea lies within roughly the same latitudes as the U. S. eastern seaboard from Portsmouth, N. H., to Charleston, S. C., its winter averages six degrees colder. In the north-central mountain, temperatures often match those of Labrador and southern Alaska.

Winter Wardrobe

If Army quartermaster plans do not go astray, there will be no lack of warm clothing for the U. N. troops this winter. Distribution of the first of three winter field equipment issues has already begun. A second allotment will be made about October 1, a third on November 1. Special teams are touring the peninsula, training soldiers to keep warm and dry under the worst winter weather.

When deep winter comes, the front-line foot soldier will be the custodian and grateful user of a thick sleeping bag, pile-lined field jacket with hood as well as a fur cap, woolen underwear, socks, sweater, trousers and mule, a flannel shirt, leather-wool gloves with inside liners, an overcoat, two extra blankets and arctic or rubber-leather shoe caps.

Milk production per cow is higher in Belgium than it is in the United States. Belgian cows average between 6500 and 7000 pounds per year; American cows about 5000 pounds. The butter fat content is only about 3.4 per cent for Belgium as compared with 4 per cent in the United States.

Divorce And Crime Drop, Says Czechs

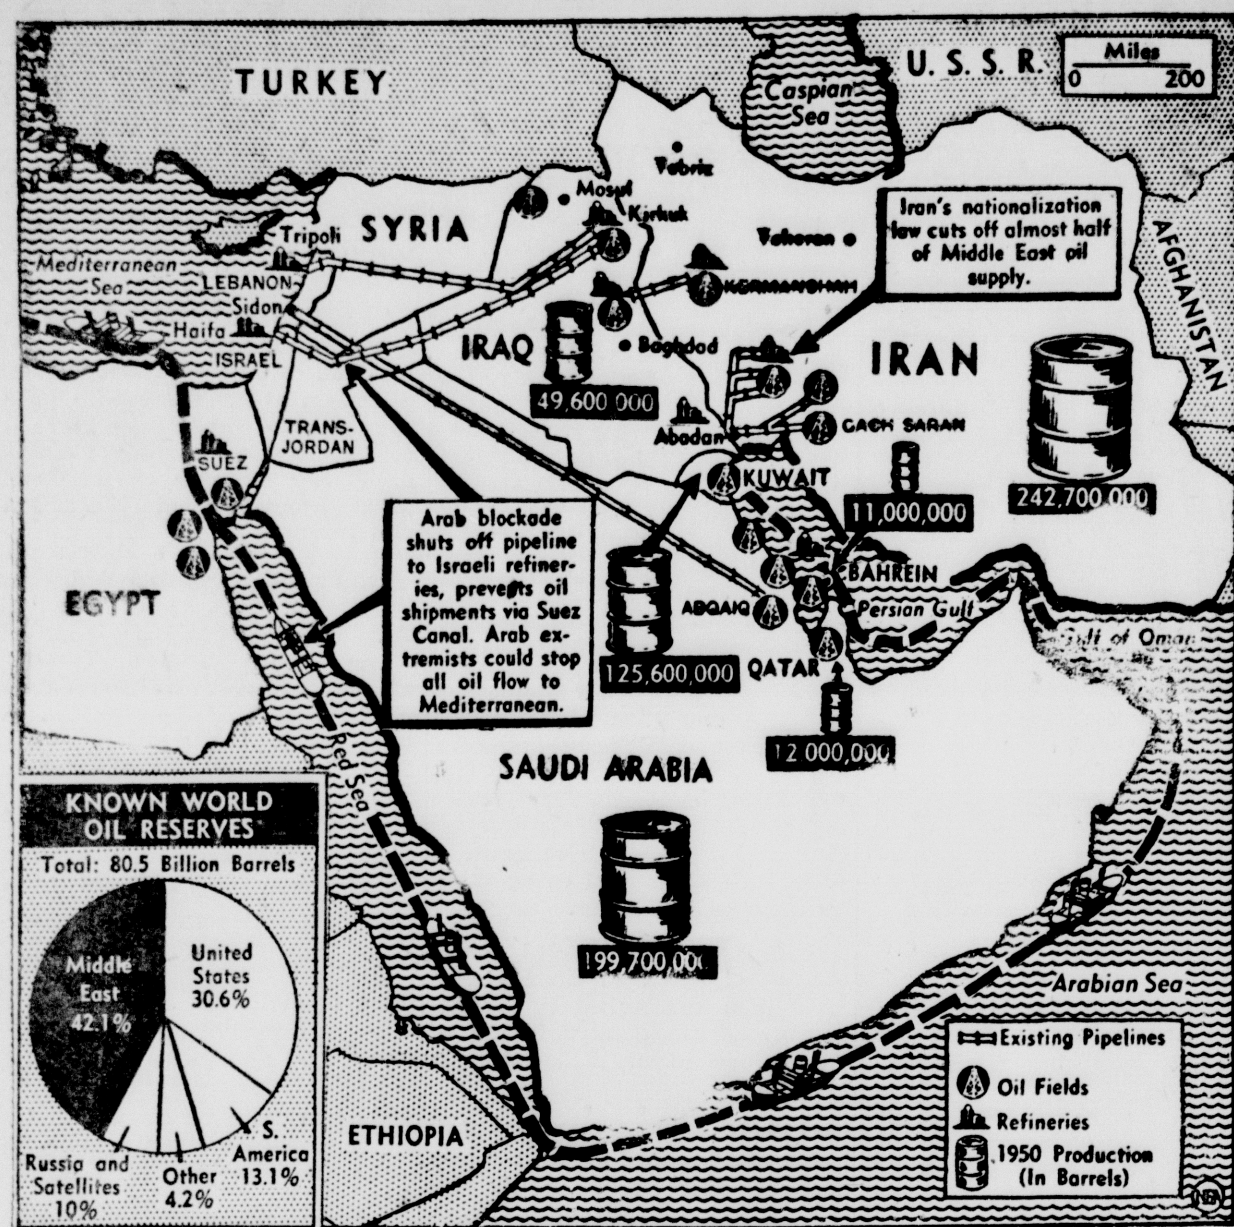

PRAGUE — (AP) — Divorce and common crime are both decreasing in Czechoslovakia, says the minister of justice, Dr. Stefan Rais.

In a recent speech, he told a conference of people's—or non-professional judges—that between January and July last year, the number of common crimes had fallen 30 per cent in Bohemia and Moravia and 15 per cent in Slovakia. He said divorce figures had been dropping off ever since 1946. He gave no exact statistics for either crime or divorce. But he said the number of divorces was still too high.

Ninety per cent of our foot troubles and ailments are due to improperly fitting footwear.

STAIR CHAIR—Wheelchairs disabled persons can now be eased smoothly down stairs, thanks to this new Danish invention, demonstrated by Marianne Gustafsson and Olof Hultin at the World Congress for Help of Distressed and Disabled Persons in Stockholm, Sweden. The caterpillar tread does the trick.

OIL AND TROUBLE IN THE MIDDLE EAST—With Iran's oil output cut off by nationalization, production in other areas of the rich Persian Gulf area is booming. But, even the stepped-up oil production of Saudi Arabia and smaller Gulf nations—which flows westward chiefly via huge, desert-spanning pipelines—could be shut off by the action of a few Arab extremists. The Newsmap above shows normal flow of oil from the Middle East. Israel's big Haifa refineries have already been sealed off from much of their crude oil supplies by Arab blockade, and a recent resolution of the Arab League contains an implied threat to the other great pipelines carrying oil to Tripoli and Sidon in Lebanon. Altogether, nearly half the free world's oil resources lie in these troubled Middle Eastern nations.

Problem Boys, 8 And 11, Take Car From Garage

Two of Gladstone's problem children, one 8, the other 11, engaged in another escapade Friday evening when they broke into the garage of Elmer Beaudry on South Ninth street, stole a 1949 auto and went joy riding.

The car was found later just off the highway west of the Escanaba River and the two boys were in it sound asleep.

It was learned later that the two had broken into the M. J. Norton garage before going to Beaudry's, but were unable to get a car out because of the position in which a truck was parked.

Both youths have previously been involved in law violations.

According to police and the record the 11 year old boy is habitually in trouble, but police state they have been advised that no action can be taken nor can the boy be placed in an institution until he attains the age of 14.

Charles Wnuck Car Is Wrecked By Deer

A late model auto driven by Charles Wnuck, Osier, Gladstone businessman, was damaged considerably Friday morning when a deer jumped in front of it on Highway US-41 several miles north of Rapid River.

Wnuck was traveling at a fair rate of speed when he struck the animal.

The deer, a doe, was killed. Michigan State Police, who investigated the collision, advised the conservation department as to the location of the carcass.

Pakistan Refugees Being Resettled

NEW DELHI — (AP) — The vast job of resettling more than half a million rural families who fled western Pakistan after the partition of this subcontinent has nearly been completed.

The rehabilitation ministry has announced that of 631,000 families who abandoned their farm homes in western Pakistan in 1947, all but 5,000 have been given land in India. In addition, 185,000 displaced families from eastern Pakistan have been resettled on farms in India. Ministry officials figure the number of people involved at about 4,000,000.

Gas Mask Saves GI Wedding Ceremony

SANTA ANA, Calif. — (AP) — Barbara Moore, a lady Leatherneck at nearby El Toro Marine base, never dreamed she'd need a gas mask to get married. But one of the gadgets averted a postponement of her marriage to overseas-bound Pfc. Robert Daniels. The couple were to be wed two days before Daniels shipped off. Just before the ceremony, the bride-to-be discovered her barracks locked and sealed while a fumigating crew was filling the building with gas. In resourceful Marine tradition, Miss Moore borrowed a workman's gas mask, waded in and recovered her trousseau. The wedding was only slightly delayed.

The brown trout was brought to the United States from Germany.

Louis Reubens To Mark Golden Wedding Sat'y

Mr. and Mrs. Luis Reubens, 524 Montana avenue, will celebrate their golden wedding next Saturday. The actual anniversary falls on Wednesday but it was decided to mark the occasion several days later.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Reubens were born in Belgium. Louis came to America and Marquette in 1900 and a year later his bride-to-be, Odella Gavaert, followed. The couple were united in marriage in St. Johns Catholic church, Marquette, on October 3, 1901. While at Marquette, Mr. Reubens worked for the Soo Line railroad. About 1910 he moved to St. Nicholas and was one of the early settlers in the Belgian colony. However he remained there only a few years and he then came to Gladstone and worked for the Delta Chemical and Iron Works until his retirement.

To the couple were born eight children, Mrs. Virginia Trudeau of Muskegon, Mrs. Augusta Roberts of Flat Rock, Mrs. Theresa Oliniski of Chicago, Andrew Reubens of Gladstone, Mrs. Tillie Potvin of Gladstone. Two of the children passed away.

In observance of the occasion there will be a high mass at 9 Saturday morning at All Saints' Catholic church with a communion breakfast at the Legion hall following. A dinner for members of the family will be held at noon at the Legion hall and there will be a reception at the hall from 2 to 6 Saturday afternoon.

A. L. Byers, of Hiawatha township, a pioneer resident of the Manistique area, will celebrate his 82nd birthday anniversary on Wednesday, Oct. 3, in Muskegon.

Accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Russell Ruggles, also of Hiawatha, he left this morning by auto for Muskegon. The party will be held at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Moida Hyland, of Muskegon.

Highlight of the occasion will be the presence of his son, Sgt. Alva Byers, home in Muskegon on a 30-day furlough from the war in Korea. Sgt. Byers was wounded in action several months ago in the Korean fighting.

Children To Attend — Other children expected for the event are two sons, Justin, of Battle Creek, and Bill, of Muskegon, and daughter, Mrs. Harry LeFleur, of Royal Oak.

Not attending will be another son, Niles, and a daughter, Mrs. Jerry Coon, both of Hiawatha.

A brother, David, 80, of Kalamazoo, also will attend the birthday event.

Besides his eight children Mr. Byers has 30 grandchildren and six great grandchildren, many of whom are expected to be present for the birthday festivity.

Mr. Byers was born in Paw Paw, Mich., on Oct. 3, 1869, and moved to the Hiawatha area with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Snelten Byers, in 1892. His father interested Walter Thomas Mills, leader of the Populist movement, in establishing a Populist communal colony in Hiawatha and for many years the Elder Byers financially backed the settlement.

Still Vigorous — Mr. Byers' present home on M-94 is located on the site of a log cabin his parents built and occupied after they homesteaded in the township.

Despite his advanced years, the Hiawatha pioneer is vigorous and active. One night last summer he and his wife walked approximately 12 miles on a wilderness road after their car became stuck in a mudhole.

Despite the ordeal of hiking through the darkness on a rutted road, and at the same time swatting mosquitoes and supporting his

Menominee Hands Escanaba First Grid Loss, 26 To 14

Escanaba high school athletic field became the graveyard for dreams of an undefeated Eskymo grid season Saturday afternoon.

The Menominee Maroons, 1950 Upper Peninsula champions, buried the Escanaba title aspirations for this season with a 26-14 defeat administered before a "standing room only" crowd which packed the huge high school stadium.

Coach Ken Radick's charges punched out their fourth consecutive win of the season on the strength of inspired second half play, taking complete command in the third period after a 7-7 first half.

Sharp Signal Caller
Brilliant quarterbacking by Wayne Ewald led the Maroons to two touchdowns in the third quarter and another in the fourth for a 26-7 margin before the stunned Eskymos registered a consolation tally late in the final period.

Menominee scored on marches of 56, 75 and 65 yards in the third and fourth periods. Ewald connected on five straight passes in the second half, with End John Moerchen on the receiving end of four of them.

After playing the visiting Maroons on even terms in the first half, the Eskymos looked like a different club in the final two stanzas. Blocking and tackling wilted and defensively the Eskymos were drab. On several occasions Eskymo tacklers were guilty of shoulder blocking the runner without making a tackle attempt.

The Eskymos looked sharp in a hard-fought first period. After an exchange of punts, with the Maroons facing a stiff wind, Escanaba rolled 40 yards to break the scoring ice. Halfback Tom Smith scored from the six. Right End JoJo Johnston kicked the extra point.

Gun Stops Eskymos
The second period was a near-repetition of the first with neither team able to gain early in stanzas. Following an Escanaba punt, also against the wind, the Maroons took over on the Escanaba 49 and marched to a TD. Moerchen kicked the point and the Eskymos were faced with a 7-7 tie.

The Escanaba squad fought back in the waning minutes of the second period, driving from their own 30 to the Menominee four-yard stripe only to be foiled by the timer's gong.

With only seconds remaining in the half, Quarterback Paul Baldwin passed to Fullback Casper Bartley on the four. Johnston immediately called time out to stop the clock. As the Eskymos prepared for a final-second play, Menominee Coach Radick protested to the officials that time had run out. His contention was then upheld by the officials who waved the gridgers to the dressing rooms for the half.

Escanaba again kicked off to open the second half and defended the north goal line, facing the stout wind which swept the length of the gridiron.

Trail For First Time
Fullback Dick Christopherson returned the kick 17 yards to the Menominee 44 and the Maroons were on their way. Eleven plays later the Eskymos were behind in a ball game for the first time this season. Ewald applied the coupe with a one-yard quarterback sneak. From there on out the Eskys were never in the ball game.

The game got under way graced with sunny skies and a warm offshore breeze. Hundreds of Menominee fans swelled the huge crowd in the stadium and cars were parked in a solid mass around the field.

Menominee received the opening kickoff which the officials ruled out of bounds. The ball was moved to the 40 yard line. Christopherson cracked the center of the line for two yards, the Maroons were offside on the next play and Ewald passed seven yards to Moerchen before Moerchen punted 26 yards to the Escanaba 27.

Bartley went six yards through the line, Charley Bellefeuille lost two, Bartley made up the loss and John Peterson hoisted a 50-yard punt to the Menominee nine.

Short Punt
The Maroons picked up two first downs in spite of a 15 yard holding penalty and Ewald missed out of bounds on the Menominee 40, just 15 yards from the previous line of scrimmage.

Baldwin flipped to Gunderman for seven yards and Halfback Dick Carlson moved the oval to the Menominee 30. Gunderman picked up four yards on an end around and Bartley battled to the 20 on two line plunges. Smith was tossed for a seven yard loss and interference was ruled on a Baldwin-to-Gunderman pass, moving the ball to the eight yard line. Bartley picked up two and Smith went over for the score. Johnston's kick made it 7-0.

Menominee failed to make a first down following the kickoff and Moerchen booted to Baldwin who returned 10 yards to the 31 as the second quarter opened. Smith and Carlson were held to small gains on the ground and the Eskymos were offside on an unsuccessful pass from Baldwin to Johnston before Peterson kicked from the 33 to the 49 with the ball again being held up by the wind.

Halfback Loren Wall, Halfback Ken LaCanne and Christopherson moved the ball downfield as Menominee began its first TD drive. Wall smashed the line for three yards to score and Moerchen's place kick was good to tie the score 7-7.

Clock Runs Out
The Esky drive that followed the kickoff was highlighted by Baldwin's 16-yard pass to Gunderman that moved the ball to the Menominee 17. There were 14 seconds remaining in the half when Baldwin passed to Bartley on the four-yard line. The clock ran out before another play could be made.

After the Maroons went ahead 12-7 on their 56-yard touchdown march in the third quarter, Escanaba threatened with a 42-yard drive which was halted on the Menominee 25.

The fired up Maroons took over on downs and Wall ripped 12 yards through the line on a delayed charge. Ewald threw two passes, to Ends Moerchen and Bero, for 18 yards and Wall shot through for another 10. LaCanne and Wall moved the ball to the 21 in two plays and Christopherson roared into the line, staggered through, shook loose in the secondary and scored standing up. Again the place kick was wide and Menominee led 19-7.

A moment later Baldwin's pass was intercepted by Wall on the Menominee 36. A 15-yard clipping penalty failed to slow the Maroons who walked past mid-field on a half-dozen ground plays. Wall and LaCanne ripped off 15-yard sprints through the wilting Escanaba line. Ewald set up the TD with an eight yard pass to Moerchen on the Escanaba six. Three plays later Ewald slid over on a sneak, Christopherson kicked the point and Menominee led 26-7.

Consolation TD
Escanaba scored on six plays from the 41-yard line as the fourth quarter waned. Baldwin passed to Gunderman for 22 yards and then missed the same man with another pass. Bartley, Escanaba workhorse on both offense and defense, bulled his way for 21 yards through the entire Menominee lineup. Smith picked up a yard, Bartley four and Baldwin, running off a single wing, sped 11 yards to score. Johnston's kick was good to narrow the final margin to 26-14.

With two minutes remaining, Menominee retained possession until the final gong.

Broncs Rally To Edge St. Paul By 19-7 Score

BARK RIVER—Coach Paul Winkman's Bark River Broncos climbed back on the victory wagon on Saturday afternoon with a 19-7 victory over St. Paul of Neguinee.

The Broncos were forced to come from behind after trailing 7-6 at the half. Fullback Joe LaVigne opened scoring for Bark River with a 50-yard gallop. The try for extra point failed.

St. Paul rallied to score on two pass plays and converted to take the halftime rest with a 7-6 edge.

40-Yard Sneak
In the third period, LaVigne set up the TD and Halfback Jack Good scored. The extra point was again unsuccessful. Quarterback Greenwood registered the final Bark River touchdown in the fourth quarter when a quarterback sneak for a first down worked for 40 yards to pay dirt.

Dick Shepherd, tackle, and Allan Schoen, center, played outstanding defensive ball for Bark River. LaVigne and Good were backfield standouts as the Broncos won their third game against a lone defeat this season.

Highland Club Will Elect New Officers

Henderson Star As Powers Tops Florence 44-6

POWERS—Quarterback John Henderson came into his own as a passer Saturday, tossing four touchdown aeriels as the Powers Tigers drubbed Florence 44-6 for their third straight grid win.

Coach Jerry Anzalone's Tigers started slowly, taking a 6-0 lead in the first period on Fullback Dave Lawrence's five-yard plunge.

Left Half Don O'Neil rambled 15 yards for the second Powers TD in the second quarter and Henderson made it 18-0 moments later with a one-yard sneak.

Pass Parade
Florence scored shortly before the half with Fullback Dale Dumke racing 45 yards on a cut-back to score standing up.

Henderson began his passing parade in the third period. He hit O'Neil with a 26 yard pass to make it 24-6, picked off O'Neil in the end zone from the six yard line and kicked the point to spread the lead to 31-6.

The junior pass master threw 20 yards to O'Neil in the fourth period to make it 37-6 and 25 yards to Right Half Ray Wells for the final TD. Wells kicked the extra point.

Name Stambaugh Coach Willard Anderson To All-State Grid Board

DETROIT—Constantly yearning for downstate recognition of their athletic teams, high school coaches in the Upper Peninsula have been presented an excellent chance to "do something about it" this fall.

For the second straight year the UP has one of its native sons as a representative on the Free Press All-State Football Board.

Willard Anderson, Stambaugh high school football coach, is the UP representative on the board for 1951. He fills the position so capably handled a year ago by Omer LaFleunesse, of Iron Mountain.

Weekly Stories
Anderson, along with five lower Peninsula coaches, will write a weekly story for the Free Press. Anderson will write of the UP's top prep football players who should be given consideration on the Free Press 1951 All-State team.

Anderson's stories will appear in all Saturday issues through Nov. 10.

All head coaches in the UP have been sent postcards, addressed to Anderson, asking them to forward information concerning leading schoolboy players with whom they come in contact from week to week.

At the close of the season the six-man coaching board will be brought to Detroit by the Free Press to select the official All-State team. Other members of the board include: Joe Rosbeck, Hamtramck High School; Bob Waldorf, Battle Creek Central; Herb Korf, Saginaw High School; Harry Potter, Muskegon High School; and Hiram Becker, Cadillac High School.

Big Ten Opens Next Weekend

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Big Ten, looking both good and bad in its opening games, must bear down this week for two conference engagements and five sharp inter-sectional clashes.

The title campaign will open Saturday with Wisconsin at Illinois, in a pivotal feature that could keynote the final championship alignment, and Iowa at Purdue.

In non-league action, Pitt is at Indiana, Stanford at Michigan, Minnesota at California, Army at Northwestern and Michigan State at Ohio State in what should be one of the top games nationally.

Notre Dame invades Detroit for a Friday night date while Iowa State is at Marquette Saturday to round out the schedule for major midwestern independents.

Too Much Kutches As St. Joe Tops Lourdes Shamrocks By 25-0 Score

MARINETTE—A combination of too much rain and too much Pete Kutches put the skids under Lourdes Homecoming festival here Saturday night, as St. Joe rolled over the Shamrocks, scoring once in every quarter for a 25-0 victory.

Kutches put the first damaging touch on what was supposed to be an eventful evening for Lourdes, when he scampered 50 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage after the opening kickoff. He also made the conversion giving the Trojans a 7-0 lead before the game was a minute old.

It was Pete's "big day," as he reeled off 314 yards on the ground, scored two touchdowns, and passing for another. He also kicked an extra point, and made numerous hard tackles to inspire a badly bruised Trojan team to the victory.

Penalties Hurt Trojans
After jumping to their quick lead, St. Joe kicked off to Lourdes on their own 41, where the ball was kicked out of bounds by Tom Pender, Shamrock guard. Losing ground on three successive plays, Fran Deschaine, stellar Shamrock backfield punter to John Martinac on the Trojan 30 yard line, and he ran it back to the 45. Kutches picked up 10 yards through tackle, but was called back as the Trojans were ruled offside. On the next play, a Martinac to Kutches pass was good to the Lourdes 45, but again the referee signaled offside. Kutches then punted to Jack Josephson on the Lourdes 15, and he took it back to the 30.

The Marinette boys caught fire here and ripped off four first downs on as many plays, bringing the ball down to the Trojan 19, but a hard driving St. Joe line, lead by Bob Pepin, who played most of the game limping on a badly swollen ankle, stopped the Shamrocks in their tracks and St. Joe took over on downs on their own 25.

46-Yard Run
Kutches took the ball on the first play and almost repeated his initial performance in the game, as he went all the way to the Lourdes 29 yard line, where he was run out of bounds by Jim Sargent, Shamrock safety. Jim Gravelle and Martinac brought the ball to the 21 on three plays, and Bob Sendenburgh drove to the 10 on an end-around play, but a holding penalty nullified the gain, and St. Joe was moved back to the 36. A pass from Martinac to Jerry McDonough brought the ball to the 26, short of a first down and Lourdes took over.

Three plays netted them only three yards and they punted to St. Joe on the Trojan 43 ending the quarter. Kutches ran the opening play in the following quarter going 32 yards to the Lourdes 26. He carried again to the 5 yard line, but a pushing penalty on the Trojans moved the ball back to the 40. Pete fumbled on the next play, and Jim Haugh recovered on the Lourdes 30 yard line. The Shamrocks rolled to the Trojan 29, but lost the ball on downs.

A nine yard gain by Gravelle and a 16 yard sprint by Kutches were nullified on successive plays as the Trojans were accused of pushing on both instances. An exchange of punts gave St. Joe the ball on Lourdes 46.

Dodgers, Giants Tie For National Pennant

BY JACK HAND
BROOKLYN—(AP)—The New York Giants "miracle men" of '51 and the dead game Brooklyn Dodgers charge into hand-to-hand combat for the National league pennant today in the opener of a best-of-three playoff series.

The tie resulted yesterday under the most dramatic circumstances when Jackie Robinson's 14th inning homer gave the Dodgers a 9-8 edge over the Phillies after the Giants had subdued Boston, 3-2, behind Larry Jensen.

All even at the end of the regular 154-game schedule, the Giants and Dodgers collided at Ebbets field at 1:30 p.m. (EST). And collide may be the proper word for this feud of bitter rivals. The series continues Tuesday at the Polo Grounds. If a third game is necessary, it also will be played at the Polo Grounds Wednesday.

Series Starts Thursday
Barring rain, the world series with the New York Yankees will start Thursday at Yankee stadium. That goes, even if the Giants or Brooks win in two straight.

Jim Hearn (16-9) was Manager Leo Durocher's choice to work for the comeback Giants, who earned a tie by chopping down a 1 1/2 game Dodger lead of Aug. 11 in a furious 341 stretch drive.

The ex-St. Louis right-hander, picked up for the $10,000 waiver price last year, had a 2-3 record against the Dodgers. Brooklyn leads the Giants 9-2 at Ebbets field and 13-9 for the season.

Chuck Dressen of the Brooks, out of pitchers after his team's desperate last stand, had Ralph Branca (13-10) for the opener. The big right-hander was 2-4 against the Giants on the season. He pitched 1 1/2 innings yesterday in relief of Pracher Roe.

While the Dodgers and Giants continued their struggle, the American league champion Yankees scheduled daily workouts to keep in fighting trim. Manager Casey Stengel already has named Alie Reynolds, his double no-hit ace, to pitch the series opener.

Near Outsway Fins
Two were out in the 14th and it looked as if the Sunday overcast might halt the game without a decision when Robinson smashed his homer. If the game had been stopped by the Sunday law with the score tied, it would have been played over completely today.

When Robinson hit his homer, the Giants were riding back home from Boston, not knowing whether they were pennant winners or losers. They got the final score by telephone near Providence, R. I., naturally they were disappointed at the many chances the Phils blew in the extra innings.

As soon as he heard the result, Durocher said "boys, tomorrow we go back to work. There was nothing we could have done about it. It's Hearn."

Durocher wouldn't name any other pitchers but added that all except Sal Maglie and Jensen would be in the bullpen. It was obvious that Maglie and Jensen would follow in that order.

Jensen's 22nd victory clinched the tie at Boston. Except for the first and ninth he held the Braves in check. In the nerve-racking ninth, Boston clubbed him for three of its five hits, scored a run and had the winning run on base.

Willard Marshall, an ex-Giant, loited to Irvin for the last big out.

In other National league games yesterday, the St. Louis Cardinals closed out the season by splitting a double header with the Chicago Cubs, losing the opener, 7-6, but winning the second game, 3-0. The nightcap was called after six innings because of darkness. Ralph Kiner blasted a grand slam homer in the 11th inning to give Pittsburgh an 8-4 victory over Cincinnati.

Chuck Dressen of the Brooks, out of pitchers after his team's desperate last stand, had Ralph Branca (13-10) for the opener. The big right-hander was 2-4 against the Giants on the season. He pitched 1 1/2 innings yesterday in relief of Pracher Roe.

While the Dodgers and Giants continued their struggle, the American league champion Yankees scheduled daily workouts to keep in fighting trim. Manager Casey Stengel already has named Alie Reynolds, his double no-hit ace, to pitch the series opener.

Two were out in the 14th and it looked as if the Sunday overcast might halt the game without a decision when Robinson smashed his homer. If the game had been stopped by the Sunday law with the score tied, it would have been played over completely today.

When Robinson hit his homer, the Giants were riding back home from Boston, not knowing whether they were pennant winners or losers. They got the final score by telephone near Providence, R. I., naturally they were disappointed at the many chances the Phils blew in the extra innings.

As soon as he heard the result, Durocher said "boys, tomorrow we go back to work. There was nothing we could have done about it. It's Hearn."

Durocher wouldn't name any other pitchers but added that all except Sal Maglie and Jensen would be in the bullpen. It was obvious that Maglie and Jensen would follow in that order.

There is a fine home of the most modern type on Ford River Road just outside of Escanaba. The owner has drastically reduced the price to dispose of it. Immediate occupancy. We are ready to show it and entertain reasonable offers.
Other homes may be had, ranging from about $5000 up. There are certain cottages outside the city limits, at prices as low as $2000 or less, which are suitable for permanent home occupancy. Some have been built by the owner. We have homes with apartment income. Homes combined with business property.
Some of these may be had on very attractive terms.

COTTAGES
Cottages in good locations, and at very reasonable prices. Certain ones are especially good for hunting camps, in fine deer country.
FARMS
One very good farm is a farm near Bark River. It is priced at $20,000, but there is so much fine equipment and other personal property value that the land and buildings are a real bargain. Besides, some land could be subdivided for residence lots at a profit without hurting the farm at all.
There are other farms of real value. A beautiful poultry farm near Iron Mountain, modern in every respect, has so much value in buildings, equipment, and established business that the $10,000 price is a real bargain. Then there are some others even as low as $6000.

BUSINESS AND INVESTMENTS
Business opportunities include retail establishments, filling stations, combination home and business properties, shop or industrial property, all excellent buys for the right parties.
There are excellent investment opportunities in properties ranging from $8000 up.
Star Dust Lodge on M-36 is for sale. The owners live elsewhere and will sell at a bargain price. In a beautiful picturesque setting on the bay shore, this resort could be developed at comparatively small investment to be one of the finest resorts in the north country.
We will gladly discuss details and terms.

Claims Deferment Plan Does Not Injure UMT

By ARTHUR S. ADAMS
President, American Council on Education

Written for NEA Service
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One of the most serious problems facing the nation today is how to provide adequate manpower for the armed forces and at the same time continue the flow of trained men into all the significant areas of our society as a whole. The legislation for Universal Military Training and Service now being debated in Congress seeks to establish general policy on this question for the future.

In no form yet proposed does that legislation make specific provision for the students in college now. Hence the Selective Service System has been faced with a practical problem that had to be solved this Spring.

Several hundred thousand students, including our future supply of physicians, dentists, linguists, teachers, engineers, and scientists, will complete part of their academic courses in June and become subject to immediate induction if no action is taken by the Government.

Should all those students be deferred? That would indeed be granting special and undemocratic privilege to students as a class. Should all be inducted? Surely such a radical step would be entirely contrary to the national interest. If, then, some should begin military service this June and some at later dates, which ones should have their induction postponed—those least qualified to do successful college work or those best qualified?

These are the questions which the manpower authorities of the Selective Service System, the Department of Labor, the Office of Defense Mobilization, the Department of Defense, and the National Security Resources Board answered by unanimous approval of the regulation recently authorized by the President.

Two facts must be clearly understood in order to form an intelligent judgment on the regulation.

First, the proposal applies only to students already enrolled in college. It does not determine what high school graduates may enter college in the future; that will depend on the legislation now before Congress.

It establishes flexible standards to aid local Selective Service boards in deciding which students within their jurisdiction should, in the national interest, have military service temporarily postponed.

Second, students who qualify, either by demonstrating academic achievement or by passing an examination testing academic capacity, are permitted to postpone the time of entering military service. No student gains permanent exemption under this procedure. Hence, there is no conflict between this plan and the proposed plan for Universal Military Training and Service. The two are complementary, not contradictory.

ARTHUR S. ADAMS: No student gains permanent exemption.

Hectic Texas Days Described In Book

RANGER, Tex.—(AP)—An atmosphere of "mud, murder, and madness," characterized the great Ranger oil rush of more than 30 years ago. It is described in Boyce House's book "Roaring Ranger, The World's Biggest Boom," recently published by Naylor Company of San Antonio.

Corn liquor was a dollar a drink. A hotel cot in a hallway cost $5 a night. The field's biggest well, the Norwood gusher, produced $35,000 worth of oil in one day on a farm which had been bought for $5 an acre 11 years before. A mule drowned in the mud of Main street.

Celebrities like Tex Rickard, Tex Beach, Jess Willard, and John Ringling played a part in the boom. House, author of 12 books, was a newspaperman in Ranger and nearby Eastland and Cisco for 10 years and writes from first-hand experience.

The strongest argument advanced against the proposal is that it discriminates in favor of young men whose parents can afford to send them to college. I am most sympathetic toward that point of view.

The American Council on Education has long advocated scholarship plans designed to make it possible for every qualified youth in America to secure a college education. But as a practical matter, I must join General Hershey in asking if we can afford, in the present state of the world, to mishandle the manpower resources we have because our social system has not yet reached perfection.

The imperative need for trained men in many areas of national life is clear. We must obtain them from the sources now available. That is the only realistic basis for any well-considered program of adapting our manpower resources to our manpower needs.

Cripple Licks Arthritis, Makes Good At Home

By NEA Service

FITCHBURG, Mass. — Harry Doebla had some troubles that Horatio Alger never would have thought of giving to his heroes. Yet Doebla made good in a way Alger would have liked.

He's now a successful greeting card manufacturer, but 30 years ago he was a depressed young man in a wheel chair. At 17, he was stricken with rheumatic fever.

Doebla's family was poor. His father was a weaver in Fitchburg mills. Before his illness, he had hoped to work his way through college and become a chemist. But that plan was abandoned.

He sank into a long period of despair and self-pity. He tried to earn money by typing, lithographing and other home projects. But no matter how hard he tried, he always failed.

Then some friends suggested he try painting and selling his own greeting cards. Their nephew, a polio victim, had been successful with that plan. Harry Doebla agreed to give it a try.

For six months, working from eight to ten hours a day, he tried to master the art of fine brush painting. At night, he lay awake exercising his cramped, arthritic fingers. It took him six months to sell his first card; a year later he earned $800.

But he was waging a losing battle against his illness. Every day, his hands were less useful. One day he found his right hand unable to use a paint brush. He felt that he was going to fail again.

HARRY DOEBLA: He beat two kinds of depression.

Then came the idea that saved him. He decided to start a mail order business in greeting cards. His parents mortgaged their home, raising $2800, and he borrowed $1600 from a friend. With that capital, he turned the kitchen into an office and was in business.

He wrote all his own sales literature, handled the buying and

Conquest Of Polio Believed In Sight

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Basil O'Connor reported he is "convinced the conquest of infantile paralysis is in sight" but he can't predict when.

One thing always makes Doebla happy when he thinks about it—he made good in his own home town.

how many more years it will require.

O'Connor is president of the National foundation for infantile paralysis and of the international poliomyelitis congress. He talked with newsmen after conferring with President Truman at the White House.

O'Connor said recent research holds out hope that two major anti-polio weapons can be developed: a vaccine, and a reliable diagnostic test.
